

Water Folk

Reconstructing an ancient aquatic lifeway in Michoacán, western Mexico

Eduardo Williams

BAR International Series 2617

2014

Contents

Preface.....	iii
Acknowledgements.....	v
Chapter I Introduction.....	1
Structure of this Book	1
Methods, Perspectives and Goals of this Research	2
Ethnoarchaeology.....	4
Ethnohistory	6
The Aquatic Lifeway	7
Geographic and Cultural Background of the Study Area.....	10
Geographic and Cultural Background of Lake Cuitzeo	10
Geographic and Cultural Background of Lake Pátzcuaro.....	16
Chapter II Reconstructing an Ancient Aquatic Lifeway in Michoacán	23
Fishing, Hunting, Gathering and Manufacturing Activities	23
Fishing.....	23
Hunting.....	33
Gathering.....	39
Manufacture	47
Implications for Archaeology.....	72
Fishing.....	72
Hunting.....	75
Gathering.....	79
Manufacture	79
Chapter III Aquatic Resources in the Economy of the Tarascan State	84
Early Historical Information	84
Aquatic Resources in the Political Economy of the Protohistoric Tarascan State	85
Trade, Tribute and Transportation	88
The Market	88
Long-Distance Trade	89
The Tribute System	95
Discussion	96
Conclusions	100
Chapter IV Summary and General Conclusions.....	102
References.....	109